

NON-DOT
APPLICATION

PRE-HIRE CHECKLIST EMPLOYMENT CONDITIONS

Thank you for considering The Randall Farmers Cooperative Union (“Company”) as a potential employer. Before completing the Employment Application, we wish to emphasize several points. Please check the box next to each statement and sign where indicated to acknowledge your understanding.

- The Company is an equal employment opportunity employer, which selects the individual it feels is the best match for the job based upon job-related qualifications, and regardless of race, color, creed, sex, national origin, religion, age, disability, or other protected group status.
- No applicant is officially considered an employee of this Company until and unless he/she receives a verbal offer by the General Manager or manager approved designee, confirming employment and the conditions of employment.
- When conditions warrant, other management personnel may be given authorization to confirm employment for a brief, interim period.
- Employment with the company is based on the “at will” doctrine, meaning that either the employee or the employer may terminate the employment relationship at any time and for any reason.
- We hope that we never have to lay off employees. However, we have clearly established that right and will lay off employees if management feels it is best for the company.
- The Company, has an anti-harassment policy that states that harassment of any kind will not be tolerated in the workplace, and that any and all complaints of harassment will be investigated fully, fairly and quickly, and will be decisively resolved.
- Only the General Manager or manager approved designee for the Company, has the authority to enter into an agreement for employment, oral modification to either employment-at-will status or to an existing hiring agreement. Should you be hired, any offers made by your supervisors are valid only if they have been approved by the General Manager or manager approved designee.
- Dishonesty in the completion of the employment application will cause it to be considered invalid. Should the dishonesty become known in the future, regardless of how much time has passed, it may be considered grounds for immediate termination.
- Although an employee’s rate of compensation may be expressed in a specific time frame (i.e., $30,000 per year or $2,000 per month), the term “year” and “month” are not to be construed as a guarantee of employment for that period of time.

- The first part of the Employment Application is for personal identification only. The questions listed are not intended to ask for information that could be labeled as discriminatory.
- In an attempt to be fair, the Employment Application is designed to only request information that will help in determining personal identification; job-related skills, qualifications, and abilities; work history and reliability; and education.
- Company management wants to make it clear that only written policies are binding. Regardless of what, and by whom, any employee may be told, only written policies are binding.
- If you are offered and accept a position with the company, you will be required to complete a supplemental information application, which requests additional information such as your race, sex, etc. This information on the form will not be considered in any employment decisions; it is needed for various record-keeping requirements to state and federal agencies and insurance companies to ensure we are practicing, or engaging in, affirmative action.
- The Company, reserves the right to have employees submit to a drug test by a designated laboratory, based on cause and/or the occurrence of a workplace accident or incident, should it feel that the test is warranted and necessary. Your continued participation from this point forward gives your consent for such a test.
- You will have access to the Employee Handbook at any reasonable time.

By checking off the box next to each of the prior paragraphs, I realize that I am acknowledging my understanding of their content, and agree to abide by the spirit and intent of each paragraph.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act

The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Here is a summary of your major rights under the FCRA. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, D.C. 20006.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you. Anyone who uses a credit report or another type of consumer report to deny your application for credit, insurance, or employment – or to take another adverse action against you – must tell you, and must give you the name, address, and phone number of the agency that provided the information.
- You have the right to know what is in your file. You may request and obtain all the information about you in the files of a consumer reporting agency (your “file disclosure”). You will be required to provide proper identification, which may include your Social Security number. In many cases, the disclosure will be free. You are entitled to a free file disclosure if:
  - a person has taken adverse action against you because of information in your credit report;
  - you are the victim of identity theft and place a fraud alert in your file;
  - your file contains inaccurate information as a result of fraud;
  - you are on public assistance;
  - you are unemployed but expect to apply for employment within 60 days.

In addition, all consumers are entitled to one free disclosure every 12 months upon request from each nationwide credit bureau and from nationwide specialty consumer reporting agencies. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for additional information.

- You have the right to ask for a credit score. Credit scores are numerical summaries of your credit-worthiness based on information from credit bureaus. You may request a credit score from consumer reporting agencies that create scores or distribute scores used in residential real property loans, but you will have to pay for it. In some mortgage transactions, you will receive credit score information for free from the mortgage lender.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. If you identify information in your file that is incomplete or inaccurate, and report it to the consumer reporting agency, the agency must investigate unless your dispute is frivolous. See www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore for an explanation of dispute procedures.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information. Inaccurate, incomplete or unverifiable information must be removed or corrected, usually within 30 days. However, a consumer reporting agency may continue to report information it has verified as accurate.

- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information. In most cases, a consumer reporting agency may not report negative information that is more than seven years old, or bankruptcies that are more than 10 years old.
- Access to your file is limited. A consumer reporting agency may provide information about you only to people with a valid need -- usually to consider an application with a creditor, insurer, employer, landlord, or other business. The FCRA specifies those with a valid need for access.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers. A consumer reporting agency may not give out information about you to your employer, or a potential employer, without your written consent given to the employer. Written consent generally is not required in the trucking industry. For more information, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.
- You may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report. Unsolicited "prescreened" offers for credit and insurance must include a toll-free phone number you can call if you choose to remove your name and address from the lists these offers are based on. You may opt-out with the nationwide credit bureaus at 1-888-5-OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688).
- You may seek damages from violators. If a consumer reporting agency, or, in some cases, a user of consumer reports or a furnisher of information to a consumer reporting agency violates the FCRA, you may be able to sue in state or federal court.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights. For more information, visit www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore.

States may enforce the FCRA, and many states have their own consumer reporting laws. In some cases, you may have more rights under state law. For more information, contact your state or local consumer protection agency or your state Attorney General. Federal enforcers are:

DRUG-FREE WORKPLACE POLICY

It is unlawful for any employee to manufacture, distribute, dispense, possess or use illegal drugs in the workplace. Adherence to the employer's drug-free workplace policy is a condition of your employment. The employer will take appropriate disciplinary action against any employee found to violate the employer's drug-free workplace requirements, and it is the established policy of the employer that any conduct or performance, in its view, which interferes with or adversely affects employment, including working under the influence of alcohol, drugs, or other comparable substances, or the manufacture, dispensing, distribution, possession or use of illegal drugs in the workplace is prohibited and is sufficient grounds for disciplinary action ranging from oral or written warnings to suspension or immediate termination of employment, or to satisfactory completion of an approved drug rehabilitation program.

The employer will establish and maintain a drug-free awareness program to inform employees about the dangers of illegal drugs and other controlled substances in the workplace and of the employer's continuing policy of maintaining a drug-free workplace and of the penalties that may be imposed upon employees for violation of such policy.

Pre-Employment Testing

All candidates who have received an offer of employment will be required to undergo testing for commonly-abused controlled substances.

Random Testing

The Cooperative may randomly test employees including those in safety sensitive positions for compliance with its drug-free workplace policy. As used in this policy, "random testing" means a method of selection of employees for testing, performed by an outside third party. The selection will result in an equal probability that any employee from a group of employees will be tested. Furthermore, the Cooperative has no discretion to waive the selection of an employee selected by this random selection method.

Reasonable Suspicion

All employees are subject to testing based upon (but not limited to) observations by the supervision of apparent workplace use, possession or impairment. Human Resources, the Location Manager, or the General Manager shall be consulted before sending an employee for testing. All levels of supervision making this decision must utilize the "Observation Checklist" to document specific observations and behaviors that create a reasonable suspicion that the person is under the influence of illegal drugs and/or alcohol. If the results of the "Observation Checklist" indicate further action is justified, the manager/supervisor should confront the employee with the documentation and with another member of management. Under no circumstances will the employee be allowed to drive himself or herself to the testing facility. A member of supervision/management must escort the employee; the supervisor/manager will make arrangements for the employee to be transported home.

- b. When observed using alcohol or illegal drugs while on duty requiring the performance of safety-sensitive functions.
- c.
